

UW Green Bay Spring Job & Internship Fair: March 4th, 2015

We all know career events can be intense. You'll be with fellow job seekers, rattling off your elevator pitch, and competing for the attention of recruiters—and all with absolutely no guarantee of success. You might even be wondering how you will stand out. The answer is simple! Make sure to do your research on the companies attending to be fully prepared prior to the event.

Staying abreast on the industry/company is a challenge in and of itself. Recruiters use these events to identify potential candidates and tend to ask students how familiar they are with the industry, company & the overall market place. That is where the Vault resource can help! Vault has trusted information to help students/alumni like you be prepared to stand out for the crowd. Make sure to research those employees below via your Vault Access Link today, provided free of charge by your career center.
