UNIVERSITY of WISCONSIN
GREEN BAY

Sponsored by the College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, the Cofrin Library, and the Center for the Advancement of Teaching and Learning

On our campus, instructors, academic staff and students have been engaging with digital scholarship in the classroom, in undergraduate research, and in their own scholarly research.

It is our hope that these sessions will help our campus develop strategies for how to better support and create new digital scholarship projects. We have invited Miriam Posner and Amanda Visconti, both experts in this field, to help us explore and plan what these next steps might look like at UW-Green Bay.
